

Christina L. Judge

Development Director
First Command Educational Foundation

Christina Judge joined the Educational Foundation in October of 2006 and brings with her over ten years of experience in fund development, program management, public relations, and marketing. Christina's early experience began with the United States Army in Hanau, Germany, managing financial education programs for Army Community Services, as well as coordinating the military community's Army Emergency Relief Campaign. Upon returning the states, Ms. Judge worked for Consumer Credit Counseling Services in the Annapolis, Maryland area, first as a counselor and then as branch manager.

After relocating to Texas, Christina earned her Master of Arts degree in Sociology from Texas Woman's University in Denton, and worked as a grant writer for a domestic violence agency as a part of her independent study. During this time she also volunteered extensively in the community and served on several non-profit boards. After graduating, Ms. Judge worked in various positions in academia ranging from program management to grant and contract administration.

As Development Director for the Foundation, Christina is dedicated to generating contributed funding to meet the fiscal needs of the organization. The newest development undertaking is the implementation of the Foundation's planned giving program. In keeping with her past counseling experience, Christina is also committed to fostering collaborative partnerships with other organizations in order to help the most deserving members of the community attain the skills and knowledge needed for financial independence.
